Beaches and Bays

Summerleaze Beach is the closest beach to Bude town. It is ideal for families, with sand dunes for young adventurers to play hide and seek in and a huge expanse of clean fine sand. It has a sea-washed swimming pool near the cliffs which is perfect for a dip. The best postcode to use for sat-nav is EX23 8HN.

Crooklets, Bude's other town beach was nicknamed the 'Bondi of Britain' where the country's first life-saving club was formed in 1953. Crooklets often provides ideal conditions for surfers and there are regular surf and life-saving demonstrations throughout the year. You can find it using the postcode EX23 8NE.

Northcott, is, at low tide, a beautiful sandy beach which can extend 3 miles to Crooklets beach at Bude. Don't leave before sampling one of Margaret's Cream Teas and walking up the cliff and taking in a few deep breaths at the top. The best postcode to use is EX23 9ED.

Duckpool is a romantic little cove at the end of Coombe Valley, favoured for its little sandy beach flanked by the spectacular peak of Steeple Point. The surrounding cliffs offer stunning views of the North Cornwall and Devon coast. Duckpool offers great surfing and good rock pools. Its postcode is EX23 9HW.

Bude

Spend a day exploring Bude. There are traditional seaside style shops selling buckets and spades and souvenirs; but also numerous art galleries, clothing boutiques, surf stores, New Age mystical shops, jewellers, delicatessen and convenience stores.

Widemouth Bay

Widemouth Bay is a picturesque coastal village with a vast sandy beach, perfect for surfers of any ability. The waves can be quite spectacular. It has excellent parking and facilities, including a surfing school and a café for the obligatory ice creams. Widemouth Bay is also an ideal starting point for walking the Cornish coast towards Black Rock or Upton Beach.

Crackington Haven

Crackington Haven, another little coastal village, is a short drive to the south west of Bude. It has a stunning idyllic cove, flanked by dramatic steep cliffs. There's also a pub and restaurant, beach café, public conveniences and excellent parking. It's ideal for families, as the sand is bordered by a low reef which provides numerous little rock pools to explore. Lifeguards patrol from May until September.

Port Isaac

For a classic North Devon seaside village, visit Port Isaac, a pretty 14th century fishing village. Its narrow winding lanes are lined with old whitewashed cottages. Down at the beach you will find a great wet fish shop, some pubs, cafés and a few shops.
